

R E S O U R C E S

for Further Study and Informed Action

Websites Worth Knowing About

www.afterschool.gov

Clearinghouse to federal resources that support children and youth during out-of-school hours.

www.ed.gov/21stcclc

The Federal government's official site for 21st Century Community Learning Centers (reauthorized as Title IV, Part B of the No Child Left Behind Act of 2001).

www.financeproject.org/osthome/htm

The Finance Project's Out-of-School Time Project devoted to financial/technical assistance.

www.gse.harvard.edu/~hfrp/projects/afterschool/evaldatabase

Harvard Family Research Project's Out-of-School Time Evaluation Database provides accessible evaluation information on programs and initiatives.

www.ncrel.org/21stcclc

North Central Regional Educational Laboratory: Resources for After-School Programming provides resources for effective school-based after-school programs with links to potential partners.

www.niost.org

National Institute on Out of School Time located at the Center for Research on Women is committed to aligning the diverse fields of educational reform, welfare reform, and crime prevention to strengthen after-school programming.

www.tcbest.org

Twin Cities BEST (Building Exemplary Systems for Training) provides training and professional development for youth workers, including an interactive web-based training program to be launched in the fall of 2002.

www.theinnovationcenter.org

The Innovation Center for Community & Youth Development seeks, tests, and promotes innovative concepts and practices, providing cutting-edge tools for youth workers in diverse settings. They are committed to youth participation at all levels. ☞

A five-foot-tall "4-H Centennial Lucy" is one of 103 Lucy statues on display throughout the streets of St. Paul. Lucy (pictured here with artist Bill Svendsgaard and his helper Kristen Berning) is sponsored by Minnesota 4-H and will be moved to the Minnesota State Fairgrounds after the exhibit.

Center for 4-H Youth Development

PART OF THE...

 Printed on recycled paper with minimum 10% post-consumer waste.

In accordance with the Americans with Disabilities Act, this material is available in alternative formats upon request. Please contact your Minnesota county Extension office or, outside of Minnesota, contact the Distribution Center at (612) 625-8173.

Copyright © 2002, Regents of the University of Minnesota. All rights reserved.

The University of Minnesota Extension Service is committed to the policy that all persons shall have equal access to its programs, facilities, and employment without regard to race, color, creed, religion, national origin, sex, age, marital status, disability, public assistance status, veteran status, or sexual orientation.